

The 50th Anniversary of the Wickford Art Festival

Summer 2012

Juried Artist Member OF THE MONTH

The goal is to research as many members from as far back as I can go to bring the history of our association closer to us in the present. A Photo album houses the bios of previously featured JAM's for public view. The Juried Artist Member of the month is on the left side of the foyer entering the gallery.

Spring featured JAMs:

APRIL 2012: Rick Devin

MAY 2012: Olive Willis

JUNE 2012: Carol Berren

Coming in JULY 2012:

Joan Boghossian

A message from the President...

Hello to all members!

First off, we want to get updated artist bio's from all of our members to update our Artists Membership Reference Book. Having a bio is a really important tool when selling your art work. Thank you to Janet MacCausland for taking this volunteer position. Please send in your updated bio's for our book to Janet, her info is stated in this newsletter.

Next, I have been working with Senator Sheehan on a tax free artist zone for Wickford. The proposal is on the table at the state house and we are waiting to here if it will be passed. If it isn't passed I think it was a good start. I gave testimony and we had a petition with signatures that was brought to the hearing. This will give downtown Wickford a chance for a vibrant artist community with our organization involved.

Please thank Sarah, our Gallery Director for an amazing public school show. We had 551 visitors in the gallery the day of the opening. It was a real joy to see the kids faces running in the door looking for their art piece with their family.

Its fest time! There are plenty of opportunities to volunteer again this year especially with the Wilsons Clothing Store exhibit featuring our founding members. Thank you to Wayne and Jackie McCarthy, Nancy Gauthier Thomas and Kate Church for helping us with this project. The festival program is going to be extra snazzy this year too combining our past history and today.

Be on the lookout for a new granite bench honoring our founding members. It will be placed just outside our gallery door. A big thank you to Mike Brito for his volunteer time helping us!

If you get a chance please congratulate the very talented John Pitocco, volunteer of the year! This honor was given out at the Chamber of Commerce dinner in April. It is one of the highlights for me this year to be able to do that.

The Imperial gallery has opened at Jerry's Artarama. Jonathon Florez who is the manager is asking for artists work for upcoming shows. The gallery is part of Gallery Night Providence and Jonathon does not take a commission.

The oil and watercolor show had a new award tied to it. The Daphne Henderson most creative award went to Cynthia DiDonato. There was a special ribbon, plaque and $200.00! Ironically, the ribbon matched the painting perfectly. A nice deep purple. Thank you to Patricia Lake and Judy Henderson for being so supportive with this.

One last thank you and that is to our well respected community member, Mr. Paul Wilson. Mr. Wilson for over the past 50 years has always been a supporter of our art festival and he has helped our town in so many countless ways. Thank you, Mr. Wilson for being there for us so many times!

Gratefully,
Pam Reed

Jacqueline Roy SCHOLARSHIP

A scholarship has been set up by the friends of Jacqueline Roy, who recently passed away.

The Plein Aire Painters of Narragansett Bay took up a collection from their Thursday painting group here at the gallery in honor of their friend Jacqueline.

This year, this award will be given to Miri Kim a finalist in our scholarship award competition and winner of our Presidential award. Miri Kim is from Chariho Regional High School and will be attending Rhode Island School of Design.

OUR MISSION The purpose of the Wickford Art Association is to educate its membership, the local arts community and the general public, and to promote the arts in the community.

Hello Esteemed Members,

It sure feels like Summer today!!! I hope we all find this Summer to be relaxing and inspirational and creativity productive.

Over the Spring we held many successful classes and shows. The North Kingstown K-12 Show boasted 551 visitors for the opening! The door seemed to never stop having people flow in and out and the response was amazing. There is a real gratitude on the part of the community that we have embraced and validated their kids' art. We are fulfilling the mission statement of our association.

Thank you to all who have donated artwork for fundraisers in the community. This has been both generous and inspirational... I am happy to serve such an incredible group of artists.

June 16th the gallery will be honoring our longest standing members by hosting a formal 1st Annual Tea in their honor. It has been my vision to seek out the history and the stories of those who brought our organization into being. I believe in honoring the past as we move into the future. On this note I have begun a documentary film which PBS has agreed to air when it is complete. There will be many interviews and stories from the past on into the present as well as a projection into the future. Many thanks go to the core team who are working with me on this project: Chris Abbey, our film maker, Rick Devon, Olive Willis and JoAnne Breslin as well as Lora and Walter Schroder who are my personal sounding board. We are seeking historical facts, articles and stories and if you are in possession of these please do not hesitate to come forward. If you have an interest in assisting please contact me at the Gallery.

On Sunday, June 24th from 3-5pm we are beginning a collaboration with Origami Poetry and will be having a poetry meeting at the gallery. One of the poets is coming from Indonesia to read and hotels are already booked in the area for out of towners coming to this event. We are calling for artists to create the artwork for poet's poems. This a very exciting new opportunity please come and check it out.

We are working on getting a date on the calendar for a members picnic this Summer. We will be honoring our volunteers and maybe my band will come and play. So I am seeking volunteers to help me plan the picnic.

This year we went statewide with our scholarships with the help of Mia Thompson, president of RIAEA and reached out to 40 public high schools giving them the opportunity to compete for the scholarship. We have 3 place winners and also a presidential award. The awards opening will be Saturday June 2nd from 3-5pm.

I could go on but suffice it to say if you have time and interest I can use your skills to make the gallery reach it's full potential. I hope to hear from you soon.

Do you need to Spring clean your life? Those things you do which are not fruitful or life giving, cut them off...make space in your life to create and grow as an artist. You will live a richer and fuller life and inspire others to do the same.

Till we meet again,
Sarah Tallarico – Gallery Director

Photographic Arts Group

The Photographic Arts Group most recent challenge was a scavenger hunt where all the images submitted had to be taken by a disposable film camera provided at our holiday party. There were over 100 images submitted by 22 members. Each category related to a film topic which had a winner, the overall scavenger hunt winner was then selected by the members from the Photographic Arts Group. Carol Beatrice's beautiful image of a red kayak was selected as the overall winner. Carol will be the hunt mistress for our next scavenger hunt in the fall. We are all looking forward to Carol's challenge!

We were treated to presentations by two guest speakers: Barbara (Babs) Bourgette, a photographer and WAA member, provided a lot of thought provoking discussion on our own personal legacy images and how they should be handled. Michael DiStefano, award winning photographer, exhibitor and judge of 4 International Exhibitions, shared his many years of experience in photography giving members in-depth photo critiques of their images.

With the nice weather approaching, starting in June our meetings will be photo shoots. If you have a location or suggestion for a photo shoot please send me an email.

Our meetings are held on the 2nd and 4th Monday of each month and meeting agendas are posted on the website Wickfordart.org. Stop in and see what's happening or join us on a photo shoot!

Happy shooting, John
